

MAGDALENE COLLEGE PUBLICATIONS:

GKN LECTURES

THE MAGDALENE-GKN LECTURES IN MANAGEMENT

The Magdalene-GKN Lectures in Management have been organised since 1989 by Jeffery Lewins, Fellow and now Emeritus Fellow in Engineering. The aim of the series has been to bring leading figures from the world of management into Magdalene to meet with Fellows, students and members of the Cambridge business/management community. From 2006 onwards sponsorship of the Magdalene management lecture series transfers to Investec and their organisation to Dr Allegra Hadida, Fellow in Management Studies.

LECTURES (available individually)

Lectures are available price £3 plus 40p p&p. Please note some titles are now in limited supply

From steel to services: an account of change in GKN in the 1980s (1989) by Sir David Lees

Rolls Royce: a history of enterprise (1991) by Francis Tombs

The management of the defence procurement business (1992) by Sir John Stibbon

Banking in a cold climate (1993) by Lord Alexander of Weedon

Change for the better (1995) by Clive Smetton

The management of the Law (1996) by Sir Thomas Clegg

Managing the motor industry: Kaizan for management (1997) by Ian Gibson

A study of change: the Wellcome Trust 1979-1989 (1998) by Bridget Ogilvie

Retailing in the next millennium (1999) by Sir Richard Greenbury

Re-shaping of the Church of England (2000) by Michael Turnbull (Bishop of Durham)

Managing the City (2001) by Judith Mayhew

The end of newspapers (2002) by Alan Rusbridger

Managing armed forces in the fight against terrorism (2003) by John Lehman

Attracting the young into science, engineering and technology (2004) by Sir Peter Williams